Jesus said to them, "Amen, amen, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you do not have life within you. Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him on the last day. For my flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink."

- Jn 6:53-55

COMMUNITY NOTICES

EUCCHARISTIC ADORATION is a form of prayer centered on the Eucharist. Every Tuesday through Friday we have St. Patrick's Church open for this form of prayer. What do you do during Eucharistic Adoration? You can offer prayers for your family, friends, our Church and the world. You can tell the Lord your problems, concerns and anxieties. Our Lord is truly present and vulnerable. Spend this time with Him face to face. Adorers are always needed for this to continue in our community.

Substitutes are really needed at this time.

Call Becky Hyle at 494-3892 for more information.

The Son Light Celebration will be held at the Helena Civic Center on Friday, October 2nd. The Son Light Steering Committee has selected a 2015 Honda CRV- EXL with navigation valued over $32,000 for our grand prize.

St. Therese of Lisieux

On Sundays, Louis and Zelig Martin would take their daughters on walks. Therese loved the wide open spaces and the beauty of the countryside about Alencon. Frequently, the walks tired little Therese. This would result in 'Papa' Martin carrying his daughter home in his arms.

Unfortunately, the pleasant family times would soon come to an end. Therese's mother, Zelig (after an illness of twelve years), died of breast cancer in August 1877. Therese was only four years old at the time. Shortly after his wife's death, Louis Martin moved his family of five girls (ranging in ages from four to seventeen) to Lisieux.

THE WINTER OF GREAT TRIAL

He rented a home and named it "Les Buissonnets". Therese then entered what she termed "the second" and "most painful" period of her life. Because of the shock of her mother's death, "my happy disposition completely changed, "she remembered. "I became timid and retiring, sensitive to an excessive degree..."

Louis Martin and his daughters did all they could to help little Therese who missed her mother so much. They lavished affection and attention upon the motherless child. At Les Buissonnets, under the tutelage of her sisters Marie and Pauline, Therese began her first schooling. Each day after classes were over she joined her father in his study. Louis called Therese his "little queen." Eventually the two would go for a walk. They would visit a different church each day and pray before the Blessed Sacrament. The bond between father and daughter grew stronger and stronger. "How could I possibly express the tenderness which Papa showered upon his queen?" she later exclaimed. Her sister Celine, nearly four years older, became her favorite playmate.

The passage is all more remarkable because it revealed the theme of exile which dominated her whole life. Therese maintained the first word she learned to read was "heaven." From her childhood she interpreted all her world was only the beginning, only a glimpse of the glorious future. Sundays had tremendous significance. They were the days of rest tinged with melancholy because they must end. It was on a Sunday evening this youngster felt the pang of exile of this earth. "I longed," she explained, "for the everlasting repose of Heaven-that never ending Sunday of the fatherland..." To be continued...
